

As things stand today, I presently receive on average 5 telemarketing calls each night.

Every time I receive a call I inform the caller that I do not wish to be called, and to please remove my name from their list. The past 2 weeks I have received a call every from the same company at about the same time telling me I've won a Walt Disney Vacation, all I need to do is answer a few questions and give them some information about my self then me and my family will be whisked away to a great 7 day stay at the Magic Kingdom. Every night I tell the person that I am not interested in talking to them and don't want them to call me.

How many times should I have to tell these people to go away and not call. 1-2-3-10-15 times.

The consumers need a piece of legislation that will help keep these annoying telemarketers off the phone.

Thank you for your attention
